Strathmore, Alberta, August 3rd, 1921

OUR PLACE IN THE SUN

With a Federal election approaching in the near future, there is considerable anxiety to get naturalised on the part of many of our residents, and some are now taking the preliminary steps at the present time.

There are many people in this country who have been in it for a number of years, but who until now had not taken enough interest in it to become citizens. It is a great privilege to be a citizen of the British Empire, of the oldest democracy in the world, and one that has carried the torch of freedom to the remotest corners of the globe. From the days of King John and Magna Carta, through the times when the Pope sought to dominate the world, King Philip of Spain and his Armada, Napoleon and his plans of world conquest, down to ex-Kaiser Wilhelm and his dreams of a Germany over all, Britain has always been foremost on the side of freedom. The purest democracy in the world is found in the countries which speak the English tongue.

The preservation of these liberties of ours has cost millions of lives and billions of money, even within the last decade.

In the election held recently in the Province of Alberta the people's will prevailed. It always does, when the people take enough interest to exercise their franchise. The abuses that even into our Governments are our own fault. The Government will never be any better than the individuals who elect it.

There are symptoms in some of our newspapers and magazines lately of a desire for Canadian nationality, veiled in a way, but still apparent. Canada has complete independence at present, as has every English speaking part of the Empire. She forms one of the component states of the British Empire, a union of free peoples.

As a separate nation Canada would be in the same class as Brazil, Chili, Argentina, and other countries of similar extent and population. These are all estimable countries, but they have not the heritage that we have under the folds of the Union Jack. A desire for separation is a step backwards. The forward-looking people of all countries are urging extension of the principles that hold the British Empire together to all countries in a League of Nations. This is finding expression in the disarmament conference that is going to be held in Washington this fall. As an individual in a community has liberty so long as he does not injure the liberty of others, so it is coming to be that each country in the world will be subject to the restrictions put upon it by the desire for the avoidance of a catastrophe such as happened in the recent Great War.

The newly-made citizen of the Empire should read history, and he will appreciate what he has gained by coming under the aegis of "the flag that braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze."

Live Implement Dealers

Here is visible proof supplied by the Avery Company, that money spent by implement dealers for local advertising is an investment and not an expense.

It pays and it pays big! If a dealer who advertises can sell more goods—six and one-half times more—than the dealer who does not advertise, then advertising must pay big.

For three years the Avery Company has sought to prove to the local dealer, through their own and fellow dealers' experiences, that local advertising pays, and pays big. In previous years a chart of the above has been made and with it the dealer has been visibly impressed with the fact that his expenditures for local publicity was an investment and not an expense.

In 1918, 1919 and the past year, questionnaires were sent out to the dealers' division of the advertising department to every Avery dealer, asking each how much money he spent for advertising for Avery line? what form of advertising did he use? what direct result did he get from his advertising? What direct amount of sales on Avery machines?

In 1918, 51 replies were received and the charting of the final results showed that the advertising dealer sold over 12 times as much goods as the non-advertising dealer. In 1919 questionnaires brought in 204 replies, the advertising dealer selling 34 times as much goods as the non-advertising dealer.

Last year, as we know, was a hard year, and the farm machinery that was sold was sold because the buyers of it knew they had to have it. If they didn't already want tractors, it was hard to persuade them they could use tractors profitably. As a result sales were less, and replies to the 1920 questionnaire were less only 282 being received. Of these 282 dealers, 214 believed in and used various forms of advertising to show farmers in their territory why they needed Avery machines. The other 68 did not. The result: the 214 advertisers sold $1,254,580 worth of Avery goods, an average of $5,829 per dealer; the 68 who did not believe in printer's ink sold $32,227 worth of Avery goods, an average of $475 per dealer.

The advertising dealers reaped a rich reward of six and one-half times as much sales as the non-advertising dealers. Not as startling as the results of 1919 perhaps, but consider the conditions of the markets last year.

Regina, Sask.—claim is made by Norman Ross, superintendent of the Dominion Forestry Farm at Indian Head, that all trees can be expertly grown in the province of Saskatchewan. Mr. Ross has grown on the experimental farm apples, plums, and hybrid cherries to say nothing of strawberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries and other bush fruit. During the present season, 2,000,000 or more trees have been distributed to farmers from Indian Head.

WAR MEDALS ARE FINDING WAY TO THE PAWN SHOP

TORONTO, July 28.—The idea this morning published the following in its news column:

"War medals issued to Canadian veterans for the Great War are all ready beginning to find their way into the pawn shops and also into the hands of collectors. A number of military supply collectors in great numbers."

"In one town alone there are over a dozen several distinguished Canadian medals, a number of Military Medals, Crosses, Victoria Medals, General Service Medals and others. Even the Mothers' Medals find a place."

"One veteran who received his medals not long ago, consisting of the Military Medal, the Victory and General Service Medals, promptly took them to a store and received 75¢ for them."

"It is a good many cases the medals have been sold because the recipient was in retail trade and had nothing else of value to dispose of. In many cases have medals pawned been redeemed and most of them have been sold outright. In many of the remaining in the possession of the man who won them, they will become the property of collectors."

Red Cross Notes

Dr. James W. Robertson, of Ottawa, Chairman of the Dominion Executive of the Canadian Red Cross Society, recently visited Calgary and conferred with the officials at the Provincial Headquarters. Dr. Robertson stated that he was very highly pleased with the work accomplished in this Province by the Red Cross. He has been touring through Western Canada. Activity in the Junior Red Cross continues. Every day the Department which has this work in hand receives news of new units in this work. The children have shown the greatest enthusiasm in joining and are anxious to begin their real service in the Red Cross. When the school term commences.

At a recent Executive meeting on contracting reports were received from the Hospitals being operated by the Red Cross at Alberta, Alberta and Saskatchewan, and also of the work which is being done at the Red Cross. The Red Cross is stepping out where they can and is extending help to communities which are not yet ready to take advantage of the hospital services provided by the province. Every day applications for relief are being received at the Red Cross Headquarters in Calgary, from the districts where the Red Cross is working. These are being investigated and not with all delays.

The Keeping of Poultry

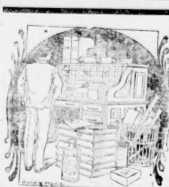

If resident in either town or country and you wish to know how best to keep poultry and serving the most satisfactory results, obtain the pamphlet on the subject prepared by the Dominion Poultry Husbandman, P. C. Emsell, and recently issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. The pamphlet can be had free on application to the Publications Branch. It tells of how poultry can be made to pay, how the birds should be housed and how they should be treated in winter and summer, how to examine keeping in a small way the equipment that is desirable, how to choose a breed, how to handle and rear, and how to select, breed, or market the eggs. In short all the essentials to success in poultry keeping. The pamphlet is written in plain, easy-to-understand language, and is clearly and explicitly explained. In the form poultry are included turkeys, geese, ducks, and chickens, and the raising and care of which are fully discussed. Numerous illustrations of types of birds and methods of housing and feeding contribute to make the pamphlet an invaluable companion on poultry-keeping and marketing.
